Any rules for the bug bounty program shall be part of the Terms, and you agree to them by submitting the Vulnerability Report.

hProof will verify each report with the involvement of its own triage team (“Triage Team”) or the Triage Team of the Company, which has requested the Vulnerability Report.

Triage Team decides on the approval of the Vulnerability Report at its own discretion and may refuse to approve the Vulnerability Report due to the following reasons:

If you do not reactivate your Account or withdraw the remaining balance within the notice period, your Account will be permanently closed. Such closure is irreversible. After the closure takes effect, your Account and any associated balance will be permanently deleted, and neither the Account nor the balance can be restored.

By initiating a withdrawal request, the user expressly acknowledges and agrees to the application of the withdrawal commission specified in this section.

This withdrawal fee shall apply to all withdrawal requests submitted on or after 1 March 2026. Withdrawal requests submitted prior to this date shall not be subject to the withdrawal commission.
